DINNER TO GEORGE WASHINGTON MAY HELP OUT FORBES' CONTEST

Feast in 1783 when wine and broken glasses cost large sum dragged out as precedent for dinner to senators.

Attorney General Stahback may spring something unexpected on A. A. Wilder when the suit restraining the governor from giving his approval to Charles E. Forbes' expense account for a certain "dinner to senators," given in Washington last winter, is brought to trial. One of his friends is showing around town a copy of the New York Times that contains a story giving ample precedent for a government official incurring expenses for "dinners" and is promising to give it to Stahback soon.

Governor Whitman of New York is being attacked by a number of ex-officers of the state through a series of letters to the newspapers in much the same manner that Wilder has been attacking Governor Pinkham. One of the things they have found fault with is the bill for the Panama-Pacific exposition last summer with a large party. His expense account ran well into the thousands, and it is alleged that a great deal of the money was spent for wine and liquors. The Times sent a man to Albany to examine the account and find out how much of the money went for "booze." His story follows:

"ALBANY, N. Y.—The controller's office cannot supply figures to show how much the state of New York paid for what ex-Senator Brackett in a published letter described as 'booze' in entertaining Governor Charles H. Whitman's party on their trip to the Panama-Pacific exposition last summer, but the controller's office can give the minute details of what the state paid for wine and liquors to entertain George Washington and his party when they were in New York in December, 1783, the guests of the state of New York with Governor George Clinton as host.

"The comparison between the state's method of entertaining in 1783 and 1915 may or may not be odious, because the Whitman party's expenditures are blanketed in a bill which calls for dining car service while 132 years before it was the custom to put it all down in writing. Judging from all accounts, the chief difference between the two is the 132 years.

"It cost just $156 10c to entertain General Washington and his party, among whom were the French minister and other celebrities. But of the $156 10c only $48 was for food. More than $80 went for liquid refreshment. Broke Up Glassware.

"Among the expenditures for the dinner was an item which may or may not have had a counterpart on the Whitman trip of 3 pounds for '90 wine glasses broken.' It further appears that the state officials who entertained General Washington exceeded the appropriation, for the records of the controller's office show that after payment of the amount set aside had been made, there remained a deficit of $36 34c.

"The record does not show where the dinner was held. John Cape was the caterer for the occasion. It is interesting to note that in the year 1783, General Washington and those who dined with him drank 60 bottles of English beer.

"One of the committee in charge of the dinner was Isaac Roosevelt, and when Colonel Roosevelt was governor he kept in his office a framed copy of the bill for entertaining General Washington and party. This bill is as follows:

"The State of New York to John Cape, Dr.

"To a dinner given by His Excellency the Governor and Council to their Excellencies the Minister of France and General Washington, etc.:

1783—Dec.
To 120 dinners at.....£ 43 0s 0d
To 135 bottles Madeira.....£ 54 0s 0d
To 36 bottles Port.....£ 10 16s 0d
To 60 bot. English beer.....£ 9 0s 0d
To 8 din. for Musick.....£ 1 12s 0d
To 10 dinners for svts.....£ 2 0s 0d
To 60 wine glass. brok.....£ 3 0s 0d
To coffee, 8 gentlemen.....£ 1 12s 0d
Musick fees, etc.....£ 8 0s 0d
To fruit and nuts.....£ 5 0s 0d
£156 0s 0d

By cash £100 16s 0d.

"We, a committee of council, having examined the above account do certify it (amounting to one hundred fifty-six pounds shillings) to be correct.

scientifically made of whole wheat and malted barley, is to supply all the nutrient of the grains, including the "vital" mineral elements so frequently lacking in foods of the ordinary diet.

One may go over the entire list of foods and not find one that supplies in such splendid proportion all the nutrient of the field grains as does Grape-Nuts food—the famous builder of sturdy bodies and active brains.
